

ERWG - Tour de Table

Ludo Glimmerveen, PhD

Based in Amsterdam, The Netherlands

L.M.Glimmerveen@vu.nl

Background in social sciences, qualitative studies, ethnography

Faculty of Social Sciences, dept. of Organization Sciences
Assistant professor

Research and Innovation Centre in Long-term Care
Program leader and Senior Researcher

Previous & current work in relation to informal care

Doctoral research: bargaining over different meanings and organizational implications of citizen participation in long-term elderly care

Supporting families caring for adult child with intellectual disability:

Role of (dis)trust in (migrant) families' care seeking behaviour and relationships to professionals

Relational work in nursing homes: how professionals align work in care triads (residents, loved ones, colleagues) and how organizational context supports/hampers tinkering with multiple 'goods'

'Everyday attentiveness': informal neighborly support in local superdiverse communities:

Identifying sources of attentiveness and how professionals can align with and strengthen these

